

IC NEWSLETTER JULY 2025

Dear IC members, colleagues, and friends,
Please find the latest information on the activities of the IC in this newsletter:

1. 56th Conference of the IC

The 56th Conference of the IC: "Steps towards new initiatives in Print-Media Education, Technology and Economics" will take place on 2-5 September 2025 in Pardubice, Czech Republic. More information on the conference, fees attendance and the program can be found here:

<https://fcht.upce.cz/en/fcht/iarigai-ic>

At the IC part of the conference, we have 17 quality papers to be presented, covering a wide spectrum of science, education, and technology topics.

Registration: The early bird booking for attendance ends on the 31st of July! Please register via the conference website: <https://fcht.upce.cz/en/fcht/ic-2025-1>.

Accommodation: There is limited availability for hotels and apartments in Pardubice, so please book your accommodation as soon as possible!!

2. IC elections for new Chairperson for the term 2025-2029

At the IC conference in Pardubice, the elections for the new chairperson will take place. The elections are scheduled for the 4th of September in the afternoon, during the IC general assembly.

Colleagues - representatives of an IC member institute that will be present at the general assembly can vote during the assembly. For IC members that will not attend the conference, there will be the possibility to vote remotely via a digital platform. Information for the vote via the digital platform will be distributed in the IC newsletter in August.

For the time being, there are two nominated candidates for the IC Chair:

- Prof. Charles Weiss, Clemson University, USA
- Enn Kerner, EUR Ing, Estonian Association of Engineers, Estonia

We invite colleagues from IC Member Institutes willing to be candidates for the IC Chair, to send a letter of interest, alongside with a very short CV (approx. 200 words), to the IC Chair Anastasios Politis, (politismedia@gmail.com) for nomination, until Tuesday 29 July 2025.

Prof. Dr. Anastasios E. Politis, Chairman of the IC
Oropos, Greece